

THE CANTON MARKET REPORTS.

Quotations the Same as Reported on Saturday.

NO IMPROVEMENT NOTICED.

Butter Situation—The Local Wheat Market the Same—Latest Quotations in the Markets of Canton.

The beginning of the week brings no changes in the market reports of Canton, remaining the same as was quoted on Saturday. Green apples continue in good supply and the price remains steady. Potatoes are doing well, and especially sweet, for which there is quite a demand. Cantaloupes continue in good supply and are finding a ready sale. There is no improvement in the butter situation and no prospects when it will improve. The egg market is still firm and the poultry market quiet. The local wheat market remains the same as quoted.

AN ADDITION TO THE FILES.

State Library Secures Some Valuable Papers.

PROF. MORREY GOT THEM.

They Add Material to the Collection That is Already an Excellent One—Something of the Work.

From Staff Correspondent.

Columbus, Aug. 19.—The Ohio State Library has received another valuable addition to its files of Ohio newspapers. Prof. W. T. Morrey, a graduate of Ohio State University, recently called at the library when he learned, through State Librarian Galbreath, of the effort that is being made to supplement the files of Ohio papers now in the library. Prof. Morrey was so well pleased with what has recently been done in this line that he promised to use his influence to assist in the work. He mentioned a collection owned by the heirs of John D. Wright, of Cluster Hill, Ohio, and volunteered to help in getting the papers.

The result is that three large boxes have reached the library, filled with interesting newspaper files, preceded by a letter from Prof. Morrey stating that his uncle, Isaac A. Wright, of Kansas City, had directed him to ship the papers to the Ohio State Library "with the compliments of the heirs of John D. Wright, of Cluster Hill, Ohio."

For the past two days Librarian Galbreath and his assistant have been at work arranging the papers. They include the Morgan County Herald and its successor, the McConnellsville Herald, 1845 to 1885, 40 volumes; the Belmont Chronicle, 1837 to 1863, 26 volumes; the National Historian, (St. Clairsville, Ohio), 1837 to 1836, nine volumes; the St. Clairsville Gazette, 1825 to 1829, four volumes; Western Herald and Steubenville Gazette, 1823 to 1824, one volume.

In addition to these are a number of miscellaneous anti-slavery papers, and partial files of the Ohio Confederate and Old School Republican, the Pittsburg Weekly Gazette, Alexander's Messenger and the Ohio State Journal.

It is the most important collection ever presented to the Ohio State Library and the library commissioners at the coming meeting will take appropriate action in recognition of the generous gift.

GEORGE T. BLAKE.

ELDERS WERE PUT IN PRISON.

Manassas, Aug. 20.—Representatives of John Alexander Dowie's Christian Catholic church in Zion continues to visit here Sundays. Evangelist W. E. Moody, of Chicago, and Elder S. A. Walton, of Oak Park, arrived here at 6:35 Sunday morning on the Erie.

They were met at the depot by officers and escorted to the prison, where they remained until 2:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon, when they were marched to the depot again and put on Erie west-bound train No. 13 and left for Chicago. Small crowds followed the Zionites and officers to and from the prison, but there were no demonstrations of any kind.

Evangelist Moody said: "We don't know what the outcome will be, but Dr. Dowie will continue sending elders here." The Zion followers here held services Sunday at the home of E. H. Leiby and were unmolested, but there were no elders present.

MAPLETON MATTERS.

Mapleton, Aug. 20.—Miss Kassie Judd, Mrs. Sara Fulk, Mrs. Eliza Coy and John Coy, four residents of this town, belonging to the Van Voorhis family, attended the annual reunion of the family at Nimisilla park, Canton, Saturday.

Mr. Nick Snyder, a former resident of this place, now of near Springfield, Mo., is circulating with his old neighbors in this vicinity.

D. W. Dehoff and wife and R. F. Wilson and wife, were Canton shoppers Saturday.

Harry Van Voorhis, R. R. Lowery and John Rodgers went to Canton Saturday on their wheels.

Daum and son and Swartz and brother are busy threshing. Wheat is light but oats are a fair average crop. Twenty young couples from here will picnic at Myer's lake next Saturday.

Several from here, including members of the G. A. R., will attend the national encampment of the G. A. R. at Chicago next week.

The Knoxian church Sunday school, of Osnaburg, held a picnic in the grove at Indian Run school last Saturday. They enjoyed a very pleasant time and there was a large crowd.

GUARDING LIFE OF M'KINLEY.

Secret Service Men Are Always Attending Him.

FEAR OF CRANK ELEMENT

Is Greater Than Fear of Anarchists and Greater Precautions Are Being Taken Now Than Ever Before.

New York, Aug. 20.—The safeguarding of the life of President McKinley from Anarchists, or the more feared class, cranks, is divided equally between the United States secret service and the local police departments, says a special to the World from Washington.

To reach the president while in Washington one must be known or have trustworthy credentials, and even then every visitor is under constant surveillance, and at a menacing move would be instantly arrested by some of the attaches at the white house or the secret service men or local detectives constantly on guard at the executive mansion.

George E. Foster, one of the most trustworthy men in the secret service, is charged with guarding the life of President McKinley at all times when he is not in the white house. Foster travels on the same car, stands on the steps when the president appears, and is always on guard at the door of the car. He has been in Canton during the president's stay there.

Charles Tharon, a Swede, who is known as "Frenchy," to the white house employees, acts as the president's valet on all his trips, and is also in the secret service. He is virtually the president's bodyguard. His wife is Mrs. McKinley's maid. The two mount guard over the president and Mrs. McKinley every time they take a trip or stop at a strange place, and it is their duty to see that no one reaches the private apartments of the president and his wife.

In addition to Foster and Tharon there are several reliable men from the secret service always detailed to accompany the president when he is away from Washington.

At the white house no one is allowed to enter except by the front door. TRIED TO ESCAPE.

"Giuseppe Costa, one of the fourteen Anarchists captured by the secret service officials and immigration authorities, escaped from the detention ship Narragansett, on which his companion reds are confined. He swam about all night in the bay. At daybreak, thoroughly exhausted after eight hours' continuous swimming, he went ashore on Liberty island, and stretched out, half dead, on the shore. He was found naked and unconscious by the captain of the little excursion boat that carries sightseers to the statue of liberty. The barge office was notified and Inspector Webber and an interpreter were sent after the man. He said he had come over as a stowaway on the steamer Gallia, of the Fabre line. He was clothed and brought to the barge office.

"Costa is one of the fourteen Anarchists chosen by the secret circle of Naples to assassinate President McKinley. His description was in the hands of the secret service detectives two days after he left Italy. His arrest followed on his arrival at quarantine. Secretly, with others of his crowd who arrived on various steamers, he was placed on board the detention ship Narragansett, off Ellis island.

PLAN OF THE ANARCHISTS. "So far as known, the plan was for each to proceed to Washington alone on a certain day. They were to surround the president, quietly waiting for an opportunity to strike. Then the blow was to be struck by the pistol and knife. One of the number, it was certain, would be successful. Investigation of escape was not considered, the men being willing to sacrifice their lives for their principles."

IRONCLAD RULES.

How the Railway Companies Will Handle the War Veterans.

General passenger agents of lines running into Chicago are calling the attention of prospective patrons of their lines during the Grand Army of the Republic encampment in that city to the form of ticket to be used on that occasion, and some requirements which the passengers will be called upon to respect. The ticket is to be an iron-clad signature coupon ticket, and will be on sale from August 25 to 28 inclusive, and will be good returning until August 31. For this length of time it is not necessary to deposit the ticket, but it will be necessary for the holder to sign it in the presence of an agent of the line over which it is sold in Chicago. If the passengers desire to stay in Chicago after August 31 it will be necessary to deposit the ticket and pay a fee of fifty cents, when the limit will be extended until September 30. If the ticket is not deposited it becomes void after August 31.

FUNERAL SERVICES

Held Sunday Over the Remains Of Three Citizens Who Died Friday.

The remains of the late George P. Capes were interred in Westlawn cemetery Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Rev. Evans, of the First United Evangelical church, delivered an impressive address in that edifice to a large number of mourners who were in attendance. The floral tributes were many and of a beautiful character.

Sunday morning a telegram was received from relatives at Cleveland stating that a brother of the late George Capes had died in that city from the effects of typhoid fever. It appears that he had been visiting in this city when George Capes was afflicted with the fever and he probably became affected with the germs, resulting in his death. The deceased was a well known telegraph operator who had many friends in this city.

THE DILLON FUNERAL.

Rev. Schmucker, of Martin Luther church held the services Sunday morning at 10 o'clock over the remains of the late Hettie L. Dillon, of this city, at Martin Luther church. The four brothers of the deceased acted as pallbearers. The Luther League, of which the deceased had been a member, attended services in a body. Many friends and relatives also were in attendance. The remains were interred in the Westlawn cemetery, several miles north of this city. There were many beautiful flowers presented by sympathetic friends.

THE REMAINS INTERRED.

Funeral services over the remains of the late Jesse A. Stoffer, late of 325 Jackson street, were held Sunday afternoon at the residence by Rev. E. P. Herbruck, of Trinity Reformed church, of this city. The services were largely attended by relatives and friends. Several beautiful floral pieces were presented to the family by sympathetic friends. The remains were interred in Westlawn cemetery.

DE WET'S BLUFF TO GAIN TIME.

Demanded Surrender of Baden-Powell's Force to Learn

THE BRITISH ARMY'S STRENGTH.

Meantime, the Old Boer Veteran Easily Given the English the Slip—Africa's Game of Hide and Seek.

London, Aug. 20.—Lord Roberts, from Pretoria, reports that General Carrington met and defeated a strong Boer force at Buffelshoek, August 16. The British loss was Captain Handey and two men killed and nine wounded.

He confirms the press report that Baden-Powell and Dewet, who slipped through the British lines with his men, exchanged messages regarding the British surrendering. The purpose of DeWet in demanding Baden-Powell's surrender was to get information concerning the strength of Baden-Powell's army.

Baden-Powell perceived his intention but thought to detain the messenger and learn something of DeWet's force. He sent word to DeWet asking him what the terms of surrender would be, but DeWet escaped through the lines without waiting to forward the terms.

Lord Roberts reports that Page's brigade has occupied Waterval, north of Pretoria, where the Boers formerly kept their prisoners. He fought the enemy on the 18th. Five members of the Yeomanry were wounded in the engagement.

Lord Roberts reports in a second dispatch today that General Ian Hamilton occupied Oliphantsnek on August 17. He captured two Krupp guns. Hamilton's casualties were three wounded. His advance troops under General Mahon engaged the enemy throughout August 19 at Rooidekopjes, on the west bank of the Crocodile river. He had few casualties. Seven Boers and two wagons were captured.

Buffelshoek, the scene of General Carrington's victory, is 50 miles due west of Pretoria.

TO KILL THE PRESIDENT.

Claimed That Was the Mission Of Moresca and Guida.

HELD IN NEW YORK CITY

And Secret Service Men Are Hard at Work on the Case—Startling Information Comes From Rome By Cable.

[News-Democrat Leased Wire Service.] New York, Aug. 20.—The United States secret service agents today began a new and more thorough investigation of the cases of Moresca and Guida, the two Italians taken at the barge office.

A startling cable dispatch from Rome caused the sudden activity. It is stated that letters were found among the effects of Bresci, the assassin of King Humbert, showing that the two men had come to this country with designs on the life of President McKinley. A letter from an Anarchist in New York is one of the principle clews on which the detectives are working.

According to a cable dispatch from Rome, this letter was dated from New York on July 25. It was signed, "Nabor," and urged Bresci to commit the crime and said that Moresca and Guida would do their duty toward President McKinley, "who has imposed on us a government as reactionary and military as those of the old European monarchies."

The efforts of the secret service men are today directed toward discovering who "Nabor" is.
